His Opposition to Assembly Anti-Japanese Bill Allays Storm at Tokio.

By Cable and A. P. to the Times.
Tokyo, April 20.—The announcement that President Woodrow Wilson had taken the stand against the proposed assembly bill, which would strip the Japanese of their rights in the United States, has allayed the storm of indignation which had been kindled in Japan. The Japanese government, which had been protesting against the bill, has now expressed its satisfaction with the President's action. The bill, which was introduced by the assembly, would have stripped the Japanese of their rights in the United States, and would have been a severe blow to the Japanese community in America. The President's stand, which was a clear expression of his opposition to the bill, has been a relief to the Japanese people, who had been fearing the worst. By Cable and A. P. to the Times.
Mexico City, April 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The news that at a celebration of the victory of the Constitutionalists at Laredo, Tex., the name of Felix Diaz was cheered enthusiastically in the same breath with the name of Madero and Carranza, has accentuated the undercurrent that is carrying the nation to the conviction that Gen. Felix Diaz alone can lead in restoring it to peace and prosperity. In the meanwhile, the position of Diaz is not only a delicate one, but also fraught with danger. His followers are urging him to take the initiative, and are said to be backed by the Statesmanship?

WELDON'S TAX AMENDMENT THREATENS BANKRUPTCY.

Change in State Constitution Would Spell Financial Ruin for Many Municipalities—Valuation of Los Angeles County Liable to Shrink Over Hundred Million Dollars Under Proposed Exemption Says Hopkins.

By A. P. Night Wire to the Times.
Sacramento (Cal.) April 20.—State Controller Nye has obtained reports from assessors all over the State showing the effect upon the constitutional amendment introduced by Assemblyman Weldon of Mendocino, exempting homesteads from taxation to the extent of $10,000. The amendment has already passed the Assembly. Mr. Nye makes no personal comment, but the reports indicate that the amendment if adopted will cause an enormous shrinkage in the taxable property of the State. E. W. Hopkins, Los Angeles county assessor, writes that the valuation in that county would be reduced not less than a hundred million dollars. "Whole townships and road districts would hardly have an assessor left in them," declares H. C. Schroeder, county assessor of Nevada county. John Ginty, assessor of San Francisco, reports that it would apply to 24,100 homes in that city. Fresno reports 5000 exemptions in the city of Fresno and about 6000 in the rural parts of the county. Some of the other counties reporting losses which would result are: Yolo, $1,700,000; Colusa, $500,000; San Mateo, $2,168,000; Mariposa, $2,800,000; Kings, about $2,000,000; Santa Cruz, $4,000,000; Napa, $2,000,000; Stanislaus, $5,000,000; San Luis Obispo, $2,500,000; Madera, $800,000; Kings, about $2,000,000; Shasta, $1,000,000; Kern, $5,000,000; Solano, $4,000,000; San Diego, $4,500,000; Orange, $8,000,000; Ven-

EXCORIATE REVISION.

Republicans Call It Abuse of Power.

Minority Report Points Out Lack of Justification for Tariff Slash.

Emphasizes the Alarm That Already Has Seized Upon Business Circles.

Underwood Bill Will Break Ranks of the Solid South, Say Politicians.

By A. P. Night Wire to the Times.
WASHINGTON, April 20.—That ad valorem duties such as are proposed in the Democratic tariff bill are "a delusion and a snare," that the radical tariff revision submitted by the Democrats is inexcusable and uncalled for, and that an accounting will come for its enactment into law, are contentions of the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee in minority report to be presented to the House tomorrow. "There is no excuse for the radical change in our revenue system proposed by this Democratic bill," says the report, which is signed by Representatives Payne, Fordney, Gardner, Moore, Green and Anderson. "The people have not asked it. The party proposing it is in power, not by the grace of a majority of the American people, but by a division in the ranks of the majority on other questions than that of protection. The administration has the power to enact this legislation. The account for the abuse of that power will come later."

SAYS ALARM IS FELT.
The report contends that the bill has caused "intense and widespread alarm in business circles." "Assuming that the Democratic bill 'seems to meet with universal approval on the other side of the Atlantic,'" the report declares that the protective feature has been entirely eliminated in the framing of the bill. "It is easily apparent," the report adds, "that many of the duties have been placed on articles used by our manufacturers and imported wholly from abroad, as a 'tax on manufacturers'; that many duties have been lowered so that they are much less than the difference in the cost of labor at home and abroad; that many articles now paying very low rates of duty have been put on the free list, though the comparative cost of production here and abroad is such that it will be impossible for business to continue without bringing down our scale of wages to the level of the rates paid abroad. In many cases articles are put on the free list, while a protective duty is held upon the material used in their manufacture."

FEATURES DEVELOPED.
The elimination from the Democratic bill of the maximum and minimum feature of the present law is deplored by the Republicans, who claim that through this provision great tariff concessions and regulations were procured and much added to the expense of the country. "Defending the existing Payne-Aldrich tariff, the minority asserts that in the last four years the people of the country have been more prosperous than ever before in our history."

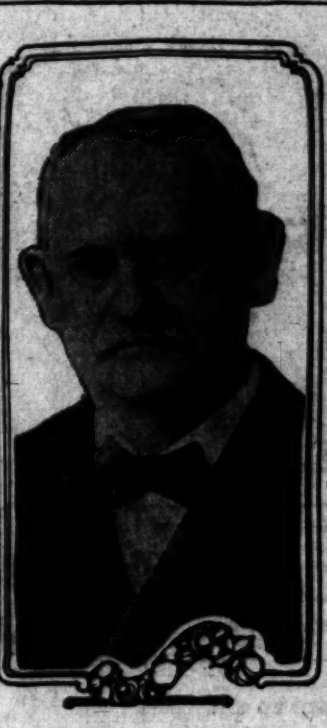

Weeks of tariff debate behind closed doors will be followed early this week by the opening of the real battle at the Democratic tariff bill on the floor of the House. Backed by the favorable decision of the Democratic House caucus, and bearing the approval of President Wilson, the Underwood tariff bill will reappear on the floor of the House by the middle of the week, ready for the fight that is to be waged there over its passage.

SURE OF SUCCESS.
The success of the measure in the House is assured at the outset, according to the Democratic supporters of the bill. The Republican forces, led by members of the Ways and Means Committee, who denounce the Underwood bill in a minority report made public tonight, again will attempt to upset the plans of the President for free wool and free sugar in three years, which carried through the Democratic caucus by a large vote. It is believed, however, that the Republicans can not procure enough Democratic allies sensibly to threaten the bill at any point.

PLANS NOT CHANGED.
The demand made by Republican Senators last week that hearings should be allowed on the bill after it reaches the Senate has not moved the Democratic members of the Finance Committee to change their original plans. No oral hearing will be given. All industries and persons likely to be affected by the changes in tariff are being given an opportunity, however, to file further statements with the committee, if they have new information that was not furnished to the Ways and Means Committee last July.

Advocates of woman suffrage will be before the Senate Committee on Woman Suffrage during the week, the hearings opening tomorrow, and will urge that a constitutional amendment for woman suffrage be approved at this session of Congress.

Alaskan railroad legislation is to be the subject of a committee hearing Friday, based on bills now before the Senate for the construction of government railways.

RESENT ATTACK ON COLLEAGUE.

BANKER WHO STRUCK SIMS MAY BE IN CONTEMPT.

Formal Notice Will Be Taken Tomorrow by Representatives of Assault Upon One of Their Number and Investigation of Affair Will Likely Be Ordered.

By A. P. Night Wire to the Times.
WASHINGTON, April 20.—Formal notice will be taken in the House tomorrow of the assault upon Representative Sims of Tennessee, Friday by Charles C. Glover, a Washington bank president. A dozen members of Congress, including most of the Tennessee delegation, conferred at the Capitol today, and determined that an attack upon a member on account of an utterance on the floor of the House was too grave a matter to go unnoticed. Representatives Garrett and Houston of Tennessee were appointed a committee to draft a resolution to be presented when the House convenes tomorrow.

It is supposed to have the resolution provided for an investigation by a committee of five to ascertain whether the facts warrant the arrest of Mr. Glover on a charge of contempt of the House. In a published statement, Mr. Glover has admitted he slapped Representative Sims's face on account of the Representative's references to him in a speech on district legislation. This, those who have looked up the law and precedents contend, constituted contempt of the House.

Carnegie and Bryan Will Discuss Disarmament at Fourth American Peace Congress at St. Louis.

By A. P. Night Wire to the Times.
ST. LOUIS, April 20.—The programme of the fourth American Peace Congress which will be held here May 1 to 3 was announced today. Prof. David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford University will preside at the opening meeting, and an address at that gathering will be delivered by Andrew Carnegie. Secretary of State Bryan will deliver two addresses on May 2.

EXPECT HALF A MILLION TO JOIN BELGIUM STRIKE.

Socialists Predict the Movement for Manhood Suffrage Will Be Increased by Large Numbers Today—Are Confident that Entering Wedge for Victory Has Penetrated the Assembly.

By Cable and A. P. to the Times.
BRUSSELS, April 20.—The Socialists assert that the number of men on strike for manhood suffrage will be increased to 500,000 tomorrow. The opinion now is general in political circles that at the session of the Chamber of Deputies Tuesday the government will be prepared to accept the conciliatory motion of the Liberal leader, M. Masman. This provides that if the Parliamentary Committee appointed recently to consider the reform of the provincial and communal franchise system evolves a plan which appears to be a manifest improvement on the present methods, then the advisability of reviving parliamentary elections along the same lines shall immediately be considered. The adoption of this motion by the chamber would mean the end of the strike that is paralyzing Belgium's industry.

It would require the defection of only nine clericals to assure the adoption of the motion, and there is little doubt that the Socialists would accept the olive branch thus offered.

TAKES DIG AT WILSON.

Clark Dwells on His Waterloo.

Speaker in Autobiography in the New Directory Recalls Incident.

Democratic Statesmen Pin Bouquets on Themselves in Sketches.

Senator Thompson Admits He Was an Able and a Popular Judge.

By Cable and A. P. to the Times.
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 20.—[Special Dispatch.] The Congressional Directory, a biennial publication wherein members of Congress say nice things about themselves, will come from the printer tomorrow. The crop of entertaining biographies is unusually large, for there are 150 new members of the House and quite a shake-up has also been staged over in the Senate. The lead story of the directory is buried in the autobiography of an old member, the Hon. Champ Clark of Missouri. Mr. Clark naturally does not intend that the public shall forget that he led Woodrow Wilson on successive ballots at Baltimore and that by the majority rule of the game he believed he should have been elected. The Speaker in his autobiography says: "Led in the Baltimore National Convention of 1912 for the Presidential nomination on twenty-nine ballots, receiving a clear majority of nine."

SELF-LAUDATION.
Senator William Howard Thompson, Democrat of Kansas, is especially explicit in denouncing Mr. Wilson. He admits filling various positions, "with the strictest honesty and fidelity," and adds that he "has the distinction of being the only Senator to be elected Judge in his district, which comprises a territory equal in area to the States of Connecticut; was considered one of the ablest and most popular judges in Kansas and has been elected for a Federal judgeship."

He continues: "It is acknowledged by all who know him that as Senator he will not only bring credit and honor to himself, but to the State and nation as well." It requires fifty-eight lines to picture the career of Representative Lafferty, Progressive member from Oregon. The length of his biography slightly exceeds the sketches of Senators Vandaman and Dupont and Representative Eschler Candler.

GOES INTO FAMILY HISTORY.
Mr. Candler is a "finer" and lists the various places in which he has lived, which he is affiliated—as do several other members—but Mr. Candler also goes into family history, giving the names of his children and their present addresses.

SOUL OF BRITVITY.
Representative Charles Lindbergh of Minnesota bellows in brevity. He employs six words in telling about himself, to-wit: "Charles A. Lindbergh, Republican, of Little Falls."

"Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma says he ran away from home when he was 12 years old and his sword "punched" cattle, chopped cord wood.

DIAMOND CUTTERS OUT.

Antwerp, April 20.—The diamond cutters decided today to join the strike movement. A detachment of clerical union workers also will go out.

Three thousand members of the civic guard are protesting against further detention from their business since there has been no trouble.

GUAYMAS IS BOMBARDED BY TROOPS FROM NACO.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NOGALES (Ariz.) April 20.—Desultory firing continued today between Constitutionalists who arrived from Naco and are holding Empalme and the Huerta garrison entrenched at Guaymas. The exchange of shots was at long range across the bay. The concentrated attack is not expected for several days.

Federal and State troops taken prisoners incident to the battle at Nogales and Naco, Sonora, are held by United States troops of the border patrol.

patch.] "This matter will be settled satisfactorily. Legislation with reference to holding of land by aliens will be enacted. The people of California want the question settled once for all."

This was the declaration of Representative Baker today in regard to the outlook concerning complications with Japan because of the insistent demand of California for legislation which will shut off Orientals from acquiring land.

Baker asserted his confidence that the California Legislature will put through a bill. He is not yet informed what the exact terms of it will be, but he feels that the people of California are bent on having some sort of an end to the problem and that they believe it might better be settled now than wait. Baker is to counter tomorrow with President Wilson on the situation. Baker believes the Legislature should enact a law and that Japan, if she feels her rights are invaded, should carry the controversy up to the Supreme Court. He is keeping in close touch with the situation through telegrams from friends in the Legislature.

KENT'S POSITION.

Representative Kent issued a statement today declaring: "To me it seems obvious that California, trying to secure the right and the duty to regulate land tenure, that California, knowing its own problems best, should pass the anti-alien land bill, which our people desire and thereby save its future as a Democratic community, from complications that would forever be provocative of friction and strife."

NOLAN'S POINT OF VIEW.

Representative Nolan declared himself in favor of the alien land bill. He asserted his belief that California would enact legislation which would protect the treaty rights of the country. He felt that his State was fully competent to handle the situation without interference from the Federal government.

NO CASUS BELLI.

Should California enact a general law against alien land holding, there would be absolutely nothing raised in the nature of casus belli as viewed by international law experts here. Treaties between nations carefully refrain from bartering away the right of a country to bar aliens from land holding.

WHERE BRYAN STUMBLES.

Secretary Bryan is advising a policy of peace and disarmament and a small navy.

This is a cause of embarrassment to the President and the Secretary of State. Advocates of an adequate navy are laughing in their sleeves at the predicament in which Bryan finds himself. They do not hesitate to say that the secretary and those Democrats in the House who have been trying to block the building up of the navy are likely to have their eyes opened before the administration sets out of its present tangle.

SINISTER SENTIMENT IS STRONG FOR WAR.

(BY FEDERAL WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 20.—[Special Dispatch.] J. K. Ohi, a journalist in Japan in regard to California alien land law, as follows:

"When the venerable Count Okuma told John R. Mott and other leading Americans that all other means had failed and 'only the influence of Christianity remained' to prevent war between Japan and the United States, he conveyed to his hearers and to the people of the United States an idea of the gravity of the situation, wholly underestimated and generally misunderstood on this side of the Pacific. And yet there is no excuse for this misunderstanding for what is now occurring in Tokyo is but a surface indication of a condition that has long existed in Japan."

"Deep resentment is felt by the representative people toward the country for its attitude of discrimination between Japanese and white aliens. That our attitude is discriminatory has been pointed out, upon the Japanese by a series of events, of which this California land question is but one.

"As a result of all this discrimination, which is theoretical, but real, there has grown up in Japan the feeling that in order for Japan rights to be fully respected throughout the world a war with America is inevitable."

NEGOTIATIONS.

Negotiations between the State authorities and officials of the Southern Pacific of Mexico will result tomorrow in turning over the road to the railway company. Since the beginning of the Sonora State uprising, the railway and its various branches have been run by the State. Mixed trains will be run until the result of the Guaymas attack will make possible the resumption of the regular service.

"Surely, Japan is too wise to be influenced by publication in their yellow press or by the mouthings of jingo politicians," says a New York newspaper.

"The Japanese are no wiser than the people of any other country. If they did not consider it necessary to issue a bulletin, the morning bulletin was as follows:

"For four days His Holiness has had no fever. As a result of the amelioration of the bronchial affection, the Pope gradually is recovering his strength."

Mr. Bresson, the Pope's secretary, and Father Parol'n, his nephew, celebrated mass today in the chapel adjoining the papal bedroom in the presence of Angelo Sarto, brother of the Pope, and his sisters and niece.

FAMILY TO RETURN.

The Pontiff is desirous that the members of his family shall return to their homes and has requested them to reassemble his friends outside of Rome that he hopes soon to reappear in the Philippines for the first time.

Such a war to be inevitable, now is the psychic moment for her to strike. Not today or tomorrow perhaps, but before an American fleet could be sent around from the Atlantic to the Pacific. For we have not a single battleship in the Pacific. If Japan desired to strike tomorrow she could not only take the Philippines for the asking, but she could take Hawaii almost as easily. And Hawaii is the key to the Pacific. Then should she so desire she could land troops in California.

"For as the result of our 'valor of ignorance' we are at her mercy. I have never believed Japan desires to go to war with us—I do not believe it today; but if we persist in our course of attacking her national honor or permitting a State to attack it—which is the same thing—it is by no means certain that the Japanese government may not be driven by the force of public opinion to take the extreme step."

WISER MEN AT DISADVANTAGE.

"Neither Count Okuma nor any other wise man in Japan—and there are many of them—desires war with the United States or with any other nation."

"But there is a Japan a public opinion which must be taken into account, a public opinion always influential but more influential just at this time than it was ever before."

REVOLUTION THREATENS.

"Heretofore the Japanese government has been able to repress public opinion whenever it assumed dangerous tendencies. It has been able to form public opinion and direct it. But the Japanese of today presents a very serious internal situation. It is difficult for one who has not seen the Japanese situation at close hand and studied it understandingly, to realize the extent of the excitement in Japan over a few school children in San Francisco or why there should be similar excitement over a few farmers in California. But each succeeding episode has been to the Japanese, an added insult—and one not to be forgotten."

"One of these, and it is one of vast importance, is stated above, the belief in Japan that a war with the United States is inevitable. Belief in the impendence of a struggle with some other nation is a dangerous thought for any people, since it usually is the foundation of trouble."

"Another fact is that if Japan feels

Pontiff Is Now Entirely Without Fever and as Result of Amelioration of Bronchial Affection He Is Recovering His Strength and Hopes Soon to Begin Receiving Audiences Again as He Did Formerly.

ROME, April 20.—So much improvement was found in the condition of the Pope by Drs. Marchisavva and Amici on their visit to the sickroom this evening that they did not consider it necessary to issue a bulletin. The morning bulletin was as follows:

"For four days His Holiness has had no fever. As a result of the amelioration of the bronchial affection, the Pope gradually is recovering his strength."

Mr. Bresson, the Pope's secretary, and Father Parol'n, his nephew, celebrated mass today in the chapel adjoining the papal bedroom in the presence of Angelo Sarto, brother of the Pope, and his sisters and niece.

Seventy Thousand Dollars in Ten Years and Is Now Going Home.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) April 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Seventy thousand dollars in ten years through tips is what a Greek waiter, Spiro Catechis, has accumulated in restaurants in this city. He is now preparing to return to Greece to establish himself in an extensive business. Catechis kept accurate account of the number of people he served in that period. It aggregated 1,100,000. He says he averaged a tip of 5 cents from each person, making a total of $55,000. This he put out at interest as it came in and lived on his wages. He made him one of the wealthiest foreigners in this section. He made it all as a waiter. During the ten years he never missed a day from work.

BURGLAR KILLS WOMAN.

Also Shoots Two Others in Making Escape from Boston House—Police on His Trail.

(BY FEDERAL WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, April 20.—[Special Dispatch.] Mrs. Eugene Cobert was shot and instantly killed early today by a burglar who surprised at his work of looting her flat in the St. Jean Apartment-house in South Attleboro. A moment later, in his flight from the house, the burglar shot Mrs. Cobert's sister, Mary Powers, through the shoulder, inflicting a dangerous wound, and also shot her brother, James, through the arm. The burglar escaped.

The police of all the surrounding cities and towns were notified to be on the watch for the murderer. Hundreds of citizens armed themselves and with the police and Sheriff guarded all the roads and car lines leading out of the town, and the entire country around was searched systematically for the murderer until daylight, when the force was joined by hundreds of other indignant men.

FRIEDMANN'S PATIENTS SAY THEY ARE BETTER

Victims of Tuberculosis Treated by Him in Washington Are Buoyant With Hope and All Recite Instances of Where Unfavorable Symptoms Had Previously Disappeared as Result of His ministrations.

(BY FEDERAL WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—[Special Dispatch.] Buoyant with hope, inspired by incidental improvement in their conditions, the men, women and children whose appeals for relief last Monday induced Dr. F. F. Friedmann, the German physician, to inject into their bodies the turtle serum which he declares will cure tuberculosis in all its forms, are now impatiently awaiting the passage of time which alone can prove whether they have received material benefit.

Not only does each deny having experienced an ill effect for the treatment, but practically every one of them recites relief in one form or another. Those who formerly suffered night sweats now declare that their sleep is undisturbed. The children whose loss of appetite entailed weakness are now said to eat with relish, while yet others remark upon the absence of incommensurable pain.

SUFFERERS ARE CONFIDENT.

From each of the sufferers Dr. Friedmann receives praise and several of his local patients are confident that his remedy will restore them to the perfect health which they once enjoyed.

Mortimer Dowd, a watchman in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, whose little daughter, Agnes, 1½ years of age, received the treatment of Dr. Friedmann last Monday said: "Of course, it is rather early to make any kind of a statement as to the worth of the serum as not a week has gone by and a fair test may require a month or two."

Agnes, however, has shown marked improvement in one respect and that is in regard to her sleep. Arthur Clements, aged 30, a machinist, received the treatment and says: "I have noticed very little change in my condition as yet although I am able to sleep better at night. I had no rise in temperature after the serum was applied although I suffered a stiffness in the hip which prevented me from stooping or sitting with ease. It will take a month or more to fully determine the exact improvement, if any, occasioned by the treatment that I have undergone at the hands of Dr. Friedmann."

OHIO MAN'S STATEMENT.

Charles H. Stansburg, aged 58, of Urbana, O., said: "I consider it an act of Providence that I was allowed to be treated at the hands of Dr. Friedmann. I had paid my bill at the hotel and was on my way home when I bought a paper and saw the account of the German physician's visit. I was fortunate in being admitted to the clinic and ever since have felt that I am an improved man."

LIBRARIANS MEET AT CHICO.

Twenty-five of them gathered in Convention to discuss Extension of the Free County Plan.

CHICO (Cal.) April 19.—Twenty-five librarians of Northern California gathered here yesterday for the convention of the ninth and fifth districts of the California Library Association.

The subject under discussion was the extension of the free county library plan which already has been adopted in twenty-two counties of the State. State Librarian J. L. Gillis was the principal speaker.

CONEY ISLAND DRAWS MASSES.

Despite Chill Biggest Crowd of the Year Visits the Famous New York Seaside Resort.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 20.—[Special Dispatch.] Despite the chill in the air which even the bright sunshine could not dispel, Coney Island today had its biggest crowd of the year.

On the beach there and at Brighton Beach there were about 300 men and women in bathing suits, but more of these stayed on the beach than went in swimming. Those who did go in said the water was much warmer than usual at this time of the spring.

Turkey trotting on the beach, tossing the beach ball and running foot races were far more popular sports than swimming.

PAINESS.

HAS DENTIST FOR PRISONERS.

THUS BOSTON'S SHERIFF HOPES TO CONQUER CRIME.

Says Bad Teeth Are Frequently Cause First Step in Downfall of Many Men and He Will See that These Under His Care Have the Cause Removed.

BOSTON, April 20.—[Special Dispatch.] Sheriff Ernest John Quinn of Suffolk county has installed a dentist's chair in the Charles-street jail and is giving dental treatment to all prisoners as one of the first aids in the prevention of crime.

He said: "A bad tooth often lands a man in jail. A large number of crimes are committed by people who are badly nourished. Malnutrition leads to morbid mental thought which results in crime. A dentist's chair and a good dentist in every correctional institution will prevent hundreds of inmates from returning again once they are free."

"To ask a man to care for his eyes, his hair and particularly his teeth you teach him the first law of decency."

"A man's whole mental attitude is transformed if he acquires or practices the habits of cleanliness and neatness."

"Physical distress is behind the crimes of many men and women."

"You can lay a great deal of evil in the world to the poor nourishment caused by no particular fault of the individual who suffers."

"A man who is fastidious about his person and his clothes does not, as a rule, require State correction. Such habits breed pride and self-respect."

SENIOR STUDENT KILLED.

Three Class-mates of Siskiyou High School Boy Injured by Overturning of an Automobile.

YREKA (Cal.) April 20.—[Special Dispatch.] A senior student at the Siskiyou High School was instantly killed and his three companions, all class-mates, badly injured yesterday when the automobile in which Long was driving overturned near Montague. The injured are:

Dorothy Hooper, daughter of Dist. Atty. Hooper of Yreka; seriously injured.

Donald Ebbelre, Yreka; leg broken.

Mildred Minaker, Montague; wrist broken.

For more than an hour the injured were pinned beneath the wreck before a passing farmer liberated them.

THE H. JEVNE CO. is an institution offering a service. A service to the housewife that is incomparable—a service that is not only convenient and dependable in the purchasing and delivery of groceries, but a service that is diligently searching the by-ways and highways of the world—for the original source of production of the various staple and fancy food products and household needs which are so essentially valuable to the housewife. And more—Jevne prices are as low as it is possible to bring "wholesome quality" foods from producer to consumer. A perusal of our catalog will show that we have many fancy and ultra-fancy table needs and delicacies which articles are necessarily more expensive than the several thousand of "wholesome quality" staple foods which we quote at such reasonable prices.

LONDONERS TIRE OF MILITANCY.

Many Police Necessary to Save Women from Mobs.

Speakers Driven from Hyde Park With Brickbats.

Suffragist Infernal Machine Discovered at York.

LONDON, April 20.—The suffragettes had plenty of evidence to-day that the public has tired of militancy and only the protection afforded by large bodies of police saved the women from the hands of angry mobs.

At Brighton the suffragettes were chased off the Esplanade and took refuge in a neighboring house. This was surrounded by howling thousands who bombarded the place with stones and smashed every window.

In defiance of the ban on meetings in Hyde Park, the Women's Social and Political Union attempted to carry on its propaganda there. Londoners had anticipated that such attempts would be made, and 20,000 persons assembled at the customary meeting place.

No sooner had a suffragist mounted the box and unfurled the militant flag than the police interfered. There were a few cries of "free speech."

"Are we in Russia?"

But these cries were drowned by hostile yells. Turf and stones were thrown, and threatening rushes were made toward the women. A large force of mounted and foot police surrounded them and kept the mob in check.

No sooner had the police escorted one group of women to a place of safety than others appeared from another quarter. It took the police three hours finally to restore order.

Similar scenes were witnessed at Wimbledon and Hampstead Heath.

An infernal machine was discovered by a policeman early this morning in the doorway of the Yorkshire Herald office at York. The wrappings inscribed "Votes for women," indicated its origin.

WOMEN TO HOLD MID-BIENNIAL.

HUNDREDS IN WASHINGTON TO ATTEND SESSION.

Opens Today in Raleigh Hotel. Mrs. Bryan Speaks Tomorrow and Week Is Well Filled With Programme of Receptions and Gatherings in Their Honor.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 20.—[Special Dispatch.] There are 500 women in Washington from all parts of the United States to attend the mid-biennial council of General Federation of Women's Clubs which will open in the Raleigh Hotel tomorrow morning.

The evening session which will be devoted to varied talks, lectures and music, will be held in the National Museum auditorium. The day session will be devoted exclusively to business and held in the assembly room at the Raleigh, where many of the women from other cities are registered.

MRS. BRYAN TO SPEAK.

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan is on the programme for Tuesday. Her subject will be: "The Rural Church as a Force in Solving Economic and Social Problems of Rural Life," to which she has devoted much study.

Miss Wilson, daughter of the President and Mrs. Wilson, will attend the meetings which are to extend over four days, but will not take any part. The President and Mrs. Wilson will receive the council at the White House at 2:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon and on the same afternoon the trustees of the Corcoran Art Gallery will throw open that building to them.

Tomorrow evening will be a reception by the District Federation for the out-of-town women and Wednesday the Chamber of Commerce will be hosts for the council on a trip to Mt. Vernon.

Mrs. Percy V. Pennington of Austin, Tex., president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, as well as the first vice-president, Mrs. L. L. Blankenburg of Philadelphia, will be present.

TO HOLD RECEPTION.

The Congressional Club will hold a reception for the visitors on Friday afternoon, when they will meet hundreds of the women prominent in official life.

One of the most interesting speakers will be Mrs. Alton Fellows Bacon of Indiana, who will speak on housing reform and who has just been instrumental after several years' work, in having a bill passed in the Legislature of her State, for housing reform.

MRS. SHONT'S HOME BURNED.

Wife and Daughters of Head of New York Interborough Road Have Narrow Escape.

MOBILE (Ala.) April 20.—[Special Dispatch.] After escaping through the flames that destroyed their splendid winter home near here early today, Mrs. Theodore F. Shonts, wife of the head of the New York Interborough Metropolitan Rapid Transit Company, and her two daughters, the Eudora de Chaulnes and Miss Marguerite Shonts, are under a physician's care at the Daphne Hotel.

The winter home of the Shonts family is at Daphne, fourteen miles up Mobile Bay, from here. More than $100,000 damage was done by the fire, which spread with such rapidity that nothing was saved except a few pieces of jewelry.

Mrs. Shonts has been in poor health for some time, but tonight no serious consequences of her fright were feared.

The Old, Old Story

Here's another pitiful instance of serious money loss through ignorance or prejudice. In this case the savings of many, many years helped feed the flames which destroyed this man's home.

People who keep their savings hidden in the home not only run an unnecessary risk but at the same time actually lose money. If this man, who lost $600, had placed his earnings on deposit in this bank they would not only have received the highest kind of protection, but would also have been earning interest at a very satisfactory rate.

Many people imagine that it takes a large sum of money to open a bank account here. This is a mistake. As little as $1 will open a term savings account at this bank and your money will begin to earn 4% from the start.

The only safe, the only logical place for the keeping of money is a strong institution managed by experienced bankers—such an institution is this.

4% PAID ON TERM DEPOSITS OF SIX MONTHS. 3% PAID ON MONTHLY BALANCES OF $300 OR OVER. 2% PAID ON DAILY BALANCES OF $1000 OR OVER. SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES—$2.50 OR MORE YEARLY. USE OUR COMPLETE TRUST DEPARTMENT.

Actual money is waste and you have the expense and annoyance of frequent changes of currency when traveling abroad. These "A. E. A." Cheques can be used without converting them into currency and you always know just how much American money you are spending. We issue them in $10, $20, $50 and $100, each cheque engraved with its exact foreign money value. Get booklet and full information.

We issue American Bankers' Association Travelers' Cheques and Blair & Co.'s Letters of Credit.

MANY MARKED BY VAMPIRES.

Wholesale Blackmailing of Business Men Charged.

Forty-one Women Sought by Police as Gangsters.

Banker, Called as Witness, Denies Any Knowledge.

What is believed by the police to be a wholesale blackmailing scheme involving in its meshes wealthy victims of this and near-by cities and counting its profits by the thousands of dollars, came to light yesterday in the investigation of recent white slave charges. Men prominent in the social and financial life of the city are said by detectives to have been mulcted of large sums of money by the criminal organization having for its purpose the compromising of men of wealth and the exacting of subsequent hush money.

The names of forty-one women and several men believed to be members of the blackmailing organization are in the hands of the authorities, having come into the possession of the detectives through a search of rooms alleged to have been used as vampire headquarters at No. 807 South Hill street. Mrs. Josie Rosenberg, alias Mrs. Bertha Goodman, held under $10,000 bonds at the County Jail, is named by the detectives as active head of the organization.

Charges and counter-charges of startling and frequently unprintable character were hurled indiscriminately back and forth yesterday between alleged blackmailers and the posed intended victims when the activity of the police detectives threatened to disclose the whole miserable truth. Arrest followed arrest as the dragnet closed in relentlessly on the accused. Fighting back viciously as hope broke was torn from them through disclosures by companions and victims, the charge of blackmailing was met by the counter-charge of white slavery.

IMPUDENT EVIDENCE.

The police are now holding E. J. Davis and Mrs. C. B. Badger in addition to Mrs. Rosenberg, while subpoenas have been issued for many of the young girls and women. Efforts were made all day yesterday to learn the whereabouts of Irene Marie Brown, said by the police to be the most important witness in connection with the case. Early this morning a police automobile with detectives started to San Bernardino with the avowed purpose of getting the young woman who is supposed to be in hiding there.

In addition to the statements secured by the witnesses named, the detectives say they have secured an affidavit from Miss Myrtle Adair, setting forth the whole alleged blackmailing scheme and naming many of the women and men asserted to be connected with it as well as prominent victims who have paid hush money in order to avoid publicity. Mrs. Kittie Phillips, said to be a personal friend to Irene Marie Brown, is another witness from whom the police have learned much of value in connection with the alleged illegal transactions. Mrs. Phillips was released from custody yesterday after making her statement to the detectives, the intimation being that she would secure immunity.

HEAVY TOLL LEVIED.

One of the alleged victims, a man variously known as King and Kingsley, but who in reality is claimed to be a local financier, according to information obtained yesterday, has "coughed up" to the extent of $4300 in his efforts to satisfy the alleged blackmailers. Several witnesses when shown a picture of the financier in question immediately identified it as that of the man known to them as King or Kingsley. Developments of a startling nature are expected at the preliminary examination of Mrs. Rosenberg Wednesday of this week.

Talk of a grand jury investigation was heard yesterday when the extent of the blackmailing operations became known, and Chief of Police Sebastian said openly last night that he favors such a course. Deputy District Attorney Graham refused to make a statement concerning the case, but a statement concerning the matter will be so taken up.

From the attitude of the police last night it appears that they are at present centering their efforts on securing all the available witnesses for the preliminary examination of Mrs. Rosenberg, in the belief that testimony adduced there will lead to a more complete understanding of the true scope of operations of the alleged blackmailers. Mrs. Rosenberg refused point blank to make any statement yesterday and Davis, while professing a willingness to talk, skillfully evaded saying anything definite other than to admit his relations with Mrs. Rosenberg.

Witnesses who thus far have given valuable information to the police say that many of the girls and young women said to have been connected with the operation of the Hill-street house are under age and on this theory the police insist that there is a possibility that the victims as well as the alleged blackmailers may be made to suffer on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors. On the whole the detectives working on the case appear averse to entering deeply into the matter as yet although they say that persons of considerable prominence are mixed up in it.

The motion-picture machine at Los Angeles High School was used for the first time Saturday afternoon, when travel pictures of India, and Egypt, scientific pictures showing African birds and their enemies, and the drama "La Tosca" were given. On Saturday evening the programme was repeated, being given for the older people of the Social Center. That of the afternoon having been for the children.

The High School purchased its own motion-picture machine, the board furnished the booth, and the whole being one of the best of its size in the city.

Said Principal Van Cleave of the Social Center: "We mean to give a series of entertainments, one each Saturday afternoon and evening, of which the motion pictures will be a feature. We shall make use of scientific studies, travels and standard dramas. We shall use only the best, and we mean to get hold of the pictures depicting historic events will be used. ## CITY DIES OF STOMACH ACHE.

Four-Million-Year-Old Colic Kills Off Mercur.

Last Rites Said Here With "No More Trains."

Town Loses Paystreak; Year of Search Vain.

About the meanest practical joke ever perpetrated on her dollars-hungry children by a supposedly straightforward and humorless Mother Nature will result today in the formal passing in this city of the death sentence upon, not an individual or even a group of individuals, but upon an entire city.

With the promulgation from the Salt Lake offices of the curt announcement that "no more tickets will be sold to Mercur, Utah," that city, luckless loser in a gigantic game of hide-and-seek "framed" from the start by the bowless patron saint of mines and mining, will literally proceed to starve to death. Its five big smelters, stores, saloons, dance-halls and long rows of wooden houses, once humming with the feverish industry of a mining town on the crest of its boom, are now the abode of the coyote and the sidewinder—except for a coursed and semi-molten state, and all because Mercur can't find a street of rustling and rustling state, speak, overnight after having paid about $1,000,000 a year in fine fat dividends for many years past. The crowd is all right, but Mercur can't find it.

DISASTROUS STOMACH-ACHE.

About four million years ago, more or less, Mother Earth, who was then in a molting and semi-molten state, had a fit of colic in that part of her anatomy which is now Utah. She gasped and writhed, doubling her half-formed state over each other in an effort to get rid of what was to her the equivalent of a green cucumber. Presently there was a particularly violent contortion and the offending part was spewed forcibly from the molten interior to form the huge and jagged expanse on her crust which is now known as the "quirky" range of mountains. ## DOUBLE-BARRELED DEBATE.

University of Southern California and Drake of Iowa to Meet Here and in Des Moines Tonight.

Four teams of two men each, representing the U.S.C. College of Law and Drake University of Iowa, will meet tonight in simultaneous debate. One contest will be held in the Ebell Clubhouse, Eighteenth and Figueroa streets, and the other in Des Moines. Wallace McPherson and Thomas Waters, Drake University's visiting team, arrived in this city yesterday prepared to hold up their end of the argument. The U.S.C. local team is composed of Otto J. Emme and James L. Patton, both selected as the result of elimination contests.

The subject to be discussed is "Resolved, That the anti-trust law should be repealed." Emme and Patton will take the affirmative, have given the subject deep study and have been carefully coached by A. W. Olmstead, who also coached the team that won from Northwestern University two weeks ago.

Former Judge Wheaton A. Gray, Willis Booth and another to be selected will act as judges.

FOUR MEN IN AN AIR-BOAT.

Glenn Martin Sets New Record With Hydro-aeroplane at Balboa. Shoup Takes a Ride.

Breaking the American number-of-passengers record for hydro-aeroplane aerobatics, Glenn Martin, the aviator, carried four persons from the bay at Balboa, into the air in an eight-minute flight yesterday.

President Paul Shoup of the Pacific Electric made a flight with Martin, circling Balboa, flying around the bluff, over the water to Newport Beach across the wharf and back at an altitude of 750 feet. Railway king and aviator were in the air fifteen minutes. An enthusiastic crowd witnessed the flight and Shoup's voyage.

After the first flight Martin reiterated his former contention that Southern California has the most propitious topographical conditions for aerobatics and he predicts that before many months he or some other hydro-aeroplaneist will be carrying eight or ten passengers.

"The flight with four passengers was a remarkable performance," declared one of the aeronautical experts yesterday. "It was the most remarkable yet made in its particular line, the water-to-air division."

HALF MILLION MARK IS OURS.

Los Angeles Population Now Five Hundred Thousand.

Really Men Admit the Pace Too Fast for Them.

"Property Selling Far Below Value," Verdict.

Los Angeles has reached the 500,000 population mark and its real estate men, justly credited with being the liveliest aggregation of boomsters on the continent, have quite overlooked the fact. When Southern California's metropolis makes such prodigious strides toward that million mark that even the men who are blasé as to progress it would seem to be time for everybody to take a new flying start, speed up and endeavor to at least keep in sight of the tail of the procession.

According to the statistical department of the Chamber of Commerce, the men who are compiling a city directory and others investigating along the same lines, cold figures have outstripped glowing predictions and the city has reached the half-way point before it was scheduled. The same figures show that it wasn't a stopping station, for a thousand since the 1910 census gave the population as 320,000 the increase from month to month has not only been noted, but is likely to continue until the past few months when the gain has nearly doubled in ratio and instead of the 465,000 or 470,000 that was anticipated, there are now undoubtedly 500,000 bona fide residents.

OVER HALF-MILLION.

"There can be no doubt of it," said Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. "The latest accurate figures that we had showed 555,000 persons dwelling within the confines of the city. Of these about 50,000 were visitors, possibly a few more. The growth of the past six days has been tremendous. Many people seem to be surprised at every new census figure and will be delayed in coming out because there are so many new names. In some of the residential districts we find the population has doubled in a year and I should not be surprised if the total increase in the city for the year has been nearly 100,000."

With Los Angeles surprising not only the rest of the world, but itself with its census many of the local real estate men, while admitting that the growth has outstripped them, find some comfort in the excuse that they have been too busy. Every one who was approached on the matter yesterday obviously had more pride in the city than in his own alertness and none expressed a grain of doubt. When asked if it is proper for a real estate man to be so busy unloading property on gullible purchasers at about 80 cents on the dollar, he cannot keep informed on the size of his own city they shamelessly replied in the affirmative.

"I made a business trip up the coast for three or four days recently and the city must have got ahead of me while I was away," said E. P. Bryan of Bryan & Bradford. "I can't say I didn't know, but I had reached the 500,000 mark, but I am not surprised. We are growing wonderfully and we are going to keep right on. We may have been a little behind, but so are the values. Property is selling every day in this city for less than it is worth."

Charles Elder, president of the Los Angeles Investment Company, has been making investigations on his own account and was not surprised at the population although he acknowledged that he had not got around to using the figures of his real estate list.

SOCIALISM THREATENS FRIDAY MORNING CLUB.

SUB-ROSA socialism in the Friday Morning Club is about to remove the pads from its feet and come clanking into the open. The probability of an avowed socialistic ticket at the forthcoming election of officers, with Mrs. Job Harriman directing the forces, is alarming the non-partisan members of the organization.

Comparatively few of the members of the club are outspoken advocates of socialism but it is reported that these have been doing quiet missionary work for some time and that they feel they have sufficient strength now to make a showing in a fight in the open. The situation is extremely delicate. Plenty of members could be found yesterday who were willing to discuss the impending coup—but not for publication.

Mrs. E. K. Foster is the reported choice of the clique of Socialists for the office of president, according to information from reliable sources. She and Mrs. Harriman are asserted to have been closely associated in the work of the Woman's Living Wage League, an association composed of persons of pronounced socialistic tendencies.

Mrs. Foster has not announced her candidacy. She has been in Sacramento several weeks in the interests of the mothers' pension bill. Several of her friends expressed the opinion yesterday that she would not make the race.

The conservatives assert that the Socialists showed rare political foresight in picking Mrs. Foster for their candidate. She like president of the club nine years ago, elected on a strictly non-partisan ticket. Her administration was a decided success and she retired from office with a strong clientele.

"The growth and prosperity of the Friday Morning Club has been due to its being able to hear all sides, see all sides, but never takes sides under any circumstances," Mrs. D. C. McCann, president of the club, said yesterday.

"The organization has always been strictly non-partisan. Any change in its policy would mean a lessening of the influence and usefulness, if not the ruin of the organization."

Mrs. McCann is not a candidate for re-election. She is completing her second term. Mrs. R. J. Waters and Mrs. A. S. Lobinger have been urged to become candidates. Both belong to the conservative element.

The nominations will be made May 2 and the election held June 8. Twenty-five votes are sufficient to nominate. Mrs. McCann was elected both times without opposition.

RETIRED.
Hollywood wants the street cars stopped at every crossing in that town, going or coming. Hollywood is getting it into its head that it is a regular place.

SHAKING HANDS.
Clark and Bryan did not really bury the hatchet. They only exposed an inch or two more of the handle. What they have said is that they are sorry that they are such bitter friends, but it is not to be helped.

OLD-FASHIONED.
Dr. Harry Lane, the new Senator from Oregon, uses a quill pen and refuses to employ either a stamp or a typewriting machine. He is just about old-fashioned enough to take a bath every Saturday night right through the Democratic administration, whether he needs it or not.

OLD-FASHIONED.
The press agent of a Connecticut village sends out a story about a cat that took her sick kitten to the office of a veterinary surgeon and left her baby in the doctor's chair. The animal healer saw what was the matter with his tiny patient and performed the slight operation necessary. Then the mother cat picked up her wee charge and took it back to its home next door. This cat's ignorance of metaphysics is distressing. She is clearly a most unscientific feline.

PROVING UP.
Harvard continues to insist that it has the smartest children on earth. It is now graduating a little boy 15 years old as a bachelor of arts. His parents ought to have Harvard arrested for cruelty to animals and children, but that is beside the question. The only demonstration the world has a right to demand at the hands of one of these boy graduates is that he hustle out and prove that he can make a living.

THE FLAG.
The Chinese flag has arrived and is very interesting. It is red, yellow, white, blue and black, having a stripe for China, for Manchuria, Mongolia, Tibet and Turkistan. Japan wants Manchuria, Russia wants Mongolia and England wants Tibet, but China wants to keep herself to herself and would like to be peaceable in doing so. They have made a fine beginning over there and are quite a remarkable people in having had a revolution which has been purely constructive from the start. They ought to do well, and we hope they do.

WHAT SOCIALISM MEANS.
Socialism with Frodo and Marx means an extinction of individualism in the cooperative commonwealth. With Job Harriman and his plunderbund it means a chance to loot the taxpayers of Los Angeles. The Socialist nominee for Mayor is not troubling himself to any extent about the "God and Humanity" side of his cult. He is looking toward the Mayorality as a means of reinforcing the $15,000 he gathered from workmen and women on the false promise of aiding in the defense of the McNamara by advising them to plead guilty. Harriman is, in a small way, adroit of speech and skillful of gesture, but he is no more fit to be Mayor of Los Angeles than a hungry coyote is to be guardian of a flock of sheep.

WORKERS WILL GAIN.
The tariff laws of the country have been competitive tariffs, but they have properly given the advantage to the American competitor. The kind of competitive tariff which the Democrats will pass will give the advantage to the foreigner. Legislation to increase importations in legislation to decrease domestic production. Under such a system the output of all our factories will be curtailed and many will be forced to close entirely. By this foreigners will gain heavily. There will be a great decrease in the demand for labor and a great increase in the number of idle men. There will be more seeking work and fewer jobs to get; wages in all industries will fall; the standard of living for all will be reduced and national prosperity will be undermined. The gain to foreigners will be as great as will be our loss.

And yet Congress will plead "Not guilty; we did not intend to injure business." So said Woodrow Wilson before he was elected President and when business votes were wanted by him and his party; but the coming Democratic tariff legislation (judging by a detailed reading of the farcical tariff hearings) will injure business and injure it most severely. If the Democratic Congress does not want to injure business then let it abandon its purpose to open our market—the greatest market in the world—to foreign competition, and say to the American manufacturer and the American workman: "The American market is yours; it is the greatest market in the world, and so long as you serve it faithfully and honestly no one shall possess any part of it without paying for the privilege."

Under the policy about to be passed by the Democrats the industries of this country will be subjected to the notorious "litter law" of Mexico. They will suffer while they stay in prison and they will be shot to death if they try to escape. "Those industries that can withstand the fire of foreign competition will survive; those that cannot must die," aptly remarks Thomas H. Marvin, Secretary of the Home Market Club.

THE MAYORALTY SITUATION.

Friends of good order and stability, believers in property rights and prosperity, should not go to sleep—should not lull themselves with the assurance that there is no need to worry about the political situation in Los Angeles. There is need to worry about it. The common enemy is working and scheming night and day, and we must not underestimate his strength. There is need of concerted and vigorous action on our side. The Municipal Conference Campaign Committee should have active and harmonious support. It is our opinion that everybody opposed to socialism and the Socialist doctrine that "property is robbery" should unite on Sherk for Mayor. While The Times would not seek to dictate to anybody, or to assume any of the attributes of political bossism, it has a sincere conviction that it would be best for all concerned if Judge Rose should gracefully retire from the field and his supporters should rally to Sherk and settle the issue at the primaries, avoiding the tug and tussle and expense of a second campaign. The Times would like to see Harriman permanently buried and Sherk elected on the first trial.

Mr. Sherk has declared his independence in a public statement in which he said: "If I am elected Mayor of Los Angeles I will be the Mayor of no faction, individual, newspaper, organization, clique or party. I will be bound by no pledges whatsoever, and will carry out that policy throughout my administration. If you like that vote for me. If you don't like it you had better vote for someone else, but if I am elected I will give to the affairs of the office the best that is in me."

The public will take Mr. Sherk at his word, not questioning his sincerity. It is the right platform on which to take a stand. His only mistake was in not getting there a little sooner. He should have made it with a "go to" added to the crowd and overbearing coterie of politicians who bore down upon him with a persistent and relentless pressure that led him to declare for the repudiated "high line" bonds—an unnecessary pronouncement for a candidate for Mayor in an election to come after the bond questions had been decided. We are not going to quarrel with Mr. Sherk over this matter, inasmuch as the people have settled the issue once and for all and sent the "high line" to the limbo of things dead and gone. We accept the clear and emphatic assurances of Mr. Sherk at their face value. We believe that both as a candidate and a Mayor he will wear no leading strings and will resist the efforts (which will undoubtedly be made) to swing him this way or that. The people demand independence in the Mayorality; they will have nothing else. They day of the political boss in Los Angeles has come forever. The last two elections have demonstrated that to everybody's satisfaction.

The Times hopes there will be a tremendously earnest campaign for Mr. Sherk on his platform of independence. Los Angeles cannot afford to take any risks and it will be to the city's vast advantage if all the opponents of the Harriman propaganda get together before the primary election and make one clean sweep of it. Put such a wet, cold, clammy blanket on dynamiting socialism that it won't warm up again in Los Angeles for ten years!

TRUE WOMANHOOD.
In the feminine hurricane raging through Great Britain over equal sex suffrage the "votes for women" breeze that started the storm has been entirely swept away. The militants have killed the original issue and replaced it with one far more serious and far more formidable. The fight has now become one between the guardians of public peace on the one hand and the propagandists of violence and lawlessness on the other—between the watchdog and the wild cat. This is no longer a conflict for rights or the redressing of wrongs, for the constitutional recognition of women. If the woman's cause is to be won in England, all those who believe in it and wish to further it must combine with the forces of law and order to stamp out militant feminine anarchy. Not until the board has been swept clean and the pieces rearranged can the original cause of the agitation be set back in the queen row.

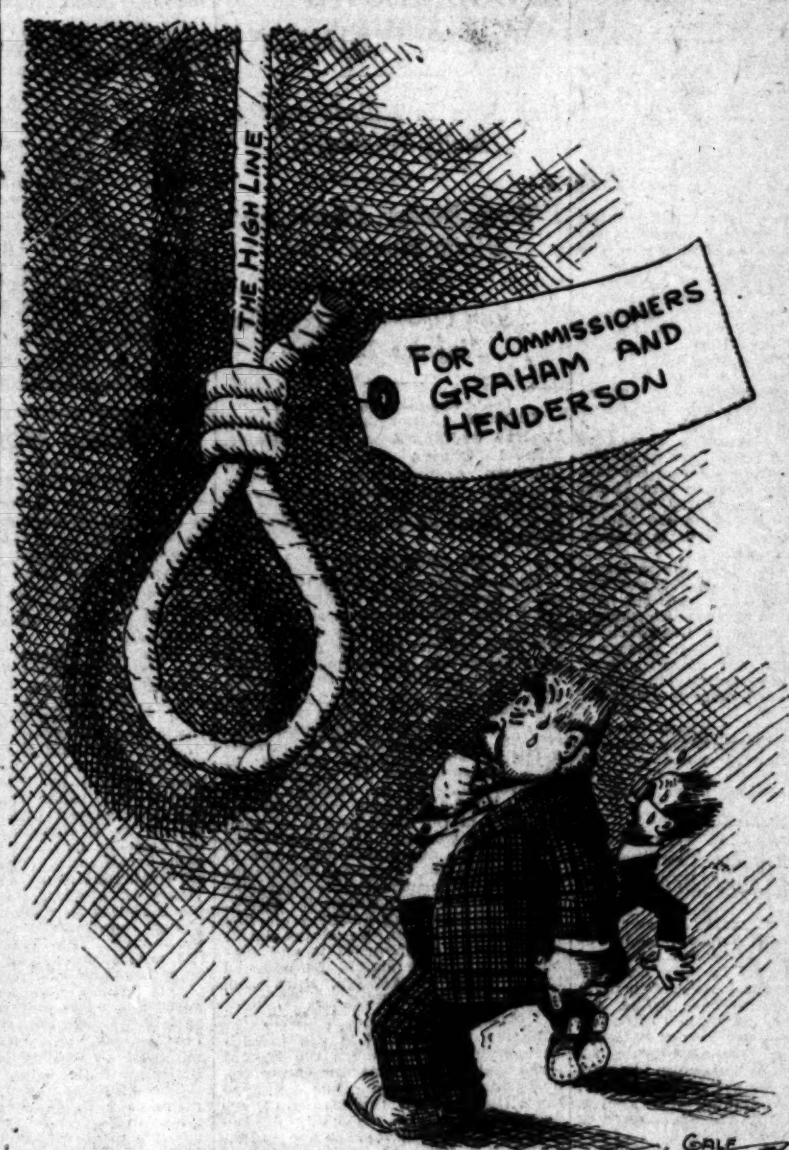

No one understands the aims and methods of the home-burning, dynamite brigade, enlisted falsely under the banner of womanhood. Like any violent and sudden storm it must blow itself out; it cannot be allowed to blow out the light of civilization. A feminine hurricane is liable to be more persistent than a masculine tempest; science has had no opportunity to diagnose such an eruption from the once gentler sex. Chivalry demands that women everywhere should be shielded from insult and abuse. No man ever abused and insulted the name of woman as have the Amazons—and the degenerate men who are abetting them—in their campaign of violence and destruction directed against innocent and inoffensive citizens.

Chivalry demands that the honor of women be defended against the stigma of a small band of fanatics who fasten on it. If the true wives and mothers against whom a conspiracy has been formed in the British Isles could make their voices heard and their influence felt, the horrid plot to wreck the cause of women would be stopped at a snap of the fingers. The mother is the one figure in the world against whom the coarsest dare not level a jibe or a sneer, whose office is too holy to be profaned; in this interest it is incumbent for the men of England never to submit to the present crusade of militant anarchy.

FORGET THE PAST.

Don't sit with your feet hanging over the tailboard of the wagon content with a rear view of the country through which you have passed. Go forward. If you cannot climb upon the driver's seat you can stand up and look over his head or under his arm at the land that lies before you. If you are a teamster sell your mules and buy an auto truck. If you are a farmer use a disk harrow and not a cast-iron plow. If you need to saw wood, or turn a grindstone, or chop fodder, or churn butter, use electric juice and not human muscles for motive power. If you are a journalist never mind making comments on what occurred twenty years ago. Lots of things which require comment happened yesterday. If you are a spellbinder don't move your audience toward the door—with harrowing tales about the horrors of Andersonville fifty years ago. There are greater horrors occurring in Mexico every day.

All's Well That Ends Well.

Time spent either in eulogizing or denouncing the past is time wasted. Unless you can repair a wrong done by present or future action it is useless to recall it, and it is better to do another good deed today than to occupy your time praising yourself for the good which you did yesterday. Let's wife be chloridized for looking backward. Nobody was ever punished for looking forward. The pleasures of hope far exceed the pleasures of memory.

When you turn back for ever so short a distance you lengthen the duration of your forward march toward your goal. "The great work accomplished by the heroic figures in the world's history has invariably been the result of steady pressing forward," said St. Paul give any portion of his time to howling over the mistakes he made when his name was Saul and, as a cruel Damascus lawyer, he persecuted the Christians? No. He said, "This one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before I press toward the mark." Matthew offers another example of the advantage of pressing forward. Matthew was a tax collector and a sinner. He was a rebel and a grifter, and was held in such distrust and contempt by the people that they longed to use him as a cuspidor. The Savior touched Matthew and said: "Follow me." Up to that time Matthew had been facing the dark and had lost his way. At the Lord's command he turned and faced the light. "He did not look back to consider what he had been doing while in darkness; nor did he think of it influence his new life save in helping others to find the way." "Whether mistakes or wrongdoings result from misunderstanding or malice," says a writer in an eastern journal, "the way out of them is fundamentally the same. If the individual proposes to press forward to the mark which Paul mentions, the reefs and shallows of past errors may be regarded as danger signals warning one from the temptation of like conditions in future experiences. But to dwell upon them is to admit them to a hold which they never really possessed."

"Let the dead past bury its dead. Act. Act in the living present. Heart within and God overhead."

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

In Great Britain, during the lifetime of the present generation, wages have increased and the hours of labor have decreased, and in the textile, housebuilding and engineering trades the British workman now gets 50 to 100 per cent. more money for 20 per cent. less work. In 1830 in the United States 51 per cent. of the recipients of regular wages worked in excess of ten hours per day. In 1880 the number so working was about 26 per cent. Now it may be said that practically none work over ten hours per day, except those who are paid for overtime, and in a large majority of the industries eight hours is the limit of a day's work.

Before the Civil War the average amount of work expected of spade laborers on the Erie Canal was five cubic yards of earth excavation for each man per day; and for this work the average wages were 75 cents per day. At the present time the average daily excavation of each man employed on precisely the same kind of work is three and one-half cubic yards at $2 per day. German laborers are not so favorably situated. In 1886, which is the latest period for which we have reliable statistics, the hours of labor in 24.4 per cent. of all industries ranged from eleven hours to sixteen hours daily; in 56 per cent. from ten to eleven hours, and for the remainder from eleven hours down to five. The extremely short limit was, however, reached only in the exceedingly dangerous and almost fatal trade of quicksilvering the backs of looking glasses. In breweries the hours of labor were never less and often more than sixteen hours.

SCIENCE PROGRESS.

New X-Ray Discovery.

From experiments recently reported in Munich the X-ray has demonstrated a new value in the study of crystallography. The discovery is simply that when a radiograph or X-ray photograph is made by passing the rays through a crystal and receiving them on a sensitized plate results are obtained that confirm in a striking way the modern atomic theories of crystal structure. When a substance assumes crystalline form its atoms are evidently arranged in some systematic manner. According to one theory these of each system are grouped in "space-lattices," and the X-ray photographs obtained are thought to be due to the passage of the rays through these atomic diffraction-gratings. Ordinary light can not act in this way because its wavelength is too great. On this theory the X-rays are simply lights of very short wave-length—a hypothesis which, although put forward long ago, has been generally neglected of late. The Bavarian experiments appear, therefore, to throw light, not only on crystal structure, but on the nature of Roentgen radiation.

See Around the Earth.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer:] A device to enable a person to see what is going on thousands of miles away has just been invented by a Berlin engineer, Dr. J. Michael Schmieder.

Dr. Schmieder long has been working with many other investigators on the problem of transmitting photographs and pictures by telegraph, but in his results he has unexpectedly gone a stage further than the other picture transmitters.

At the sending end of his wire he uses a camera, the lens of which can be pointed at any desired object or scene. The light rays are thrown on a screen which divides the picture up into light points of varying brightness. These points are in turn thrown on a sensitive plate treated with selenium, and are converted into variations of the electric current.

At the receiving end, which may be half-way around the world, this current becomes a light of varying brilliancy, and by a mirror arrangement the picture is reproduced much like the newspaper halftone, in dots of varying size and frequency.

In the shadows of the picture these dots are crowded closely together to reproduce the darker areas, appearing rarely, if at all, in the high lights of the original scene. The transmitted picture, therefore, is far truer to nature than in the earlier process of transmission, in which the picture was reproduced in lines of varying thickness.

West of Fear on the Body.

[London Post:] In a paper on the subject of fear and its effect upon the human body, prepared recently by Dr. G. W. Chiles, a London physician, it is explained that under the influence of fear the organs of the body are divided sharply into two classes—those that are stimulated and those that are inhibited. The entire muscular system is stimulated, the writer declares; so also are the nerve systems, which cause movement—the mechanism for raising the hair, the respiration, the sweat glands, and, it is found, the thyroid glands and the adrenal glands.

On the other hand, the entire digestive functions are paralyzed. So far as we know the organs stimulated increase the efficiency of the animal either for flight or fight. The increased action of the muscles of the heart increases the efficiency of the circulation; the secretion of the adrenal gland causes a rise in the blood pressure; the increased activity of the thyroid gland causes an increased activity of the tissues, and the production of glycogen is a symptom that the body is preparing fresh supplies of energy. Increased respiration is necessary to co-ordinate the supply of oxygen with this manufacture; even the sweat glands and dilated nostrils are playing their part. As for the digestive organs, they can not help, they can only hinder; so the body does the best it can by shutting off the nervous currents to them and saving the vital force which they would consume. Thus, because fear first arose from injury, its phenomena are due to a stimulation of all the organs that add to efficiency in self-preservation and a stoppage of those which are non-combatative. Fear takes many forms in civilized society, but nature has only one means of expressing it physically, and that does not alter.

THE CALL OF THE HOUR.

[San Francisco News Letter:] California is in the grip of the Vampire Preacher. Los Angeles is attempting to purchase security by traffic in politics. By heeding the clamoring of a noisy minority, they are sacrificing the liberties and rights of the majority. They refuse to listen to reason—they would rather rush the work of uplift.

The call of the hour is for a Master Mind—the return of a man on horseback. He must be progressive enough to remodel where our structure is weak, yet he must be conservative and sane enough to build. He must be responsible for the acts of his administration, and fearless enough to assert himself. He must be strong enough to control.

Wanted: A Master Mind. The California Legislature is reform mad. It has become the trading ground of weaklings, apologists and traffickers. The administration has given its approval to their actions because it has failed to assert an objection. The leader of the administration, the Governor of the State, has admitted his inability to stem the tide of insane reform. He has sanctioned compromise with those whom he feared to oppose. He is powerless to control. He does not and cannot answer to the call of the hour—they would rather rush the work of uplift.

We can place in power, as the first citizen of this great State a master mind who can and will give us an administration of progressive constructive ideas. It is our duty to find him and to prevail upon him to establish liberty and justice and common sense. One year from November next will come the opportunity.

Who is the man? We cannot find him too soon. The pretense of civic righteousness must be checked. Let us begin the campaign now.

Preacher at a Bull Fight.

[The Argonaut:] The Rev. R. J. Campbell, most noted of English preachers, is just home from a visit to Spain, and of course he went to see a bull fight. Celia says dire. He says that it was quite disgusting and shocking and that he will never go again. But why did he go at all? If there is anything on earth that has been over-described it is the bull fight, and Mr. Campbell could have obtained all the information he needed from any one of a hundred different books. If a preacher is visiting Spain or Mexico you are fairly sure to find him at a bull fight. If he is visiting San Francisco you will find him at the Barbary Coast, and in either case he will read the air with his indignant lamentations.

Speaking of fresh pictures, the light requiring picture magazines to sell five full pages up their minds and taking it just passed by the California. It isn't far across the state.

Democrats who want to under the Wilson administration their credentials filed in a case. One never hears of a Democrat in Los Angeles who arrives to shake the power.

In the action taken by the In-adopting the Constitution providing for the election of the popular vote the Democrats admit that they are not so strong. Senatorial elections will give them by the Constitution shall see what we shall do.

BY HECTOR ALLEOT.
It is thoroughly associated with the customs of Great Britain. Because it is and British actors of talent present
it here, it made a decided hit.
Then there was Dorothy Lane, who impersonated the British "Peggy" so well, and a hundred little touches from muffs to luggage that touched the background true to London environment. Even the simple anchor emblem in the divorce court is difficult to understand, except as I remember a neighbor's inquiry at the Majestic last night.

ANOTHER GREAT BURBANK HIT

Do you like a play altogether out of the ordinary?
Do you like a big, virile, thoroughly American play?
Do you like a drama that makes you laugh one minute and think the next?
Do you like a play that keeps you guessing
all the time?

"O. JEE"

It is simply another sweeping success that's going to keep the Burbank crowded-to-the-doors at every performance. That's why you should get

Makes hit in brand new play.
Frances Ring, who makes her reappearance on the local stage as leading woman of the Burbank. As Ruth Stillman.
in "O. Jee," Hayden Talbot's new play, she scores a splendid success.

HAYDEN TALBOT'S "O JEE"

MAKES DEBUT AT BURBANK

New Play Delightful Story of Love and Politics. With Author and Newspaper Woman as Central Figures.
Frances Ring, Walter Edwards and David Hartford
Win First Honors.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.
BREEZY, up-to-date, and splendidly played, "O Jee," Hayden Talbot's new play was given its first presentation on any stage yesterday afternoon at the Burbank Theater.

"O Jee" is thoroughly American,
has a big political problem as the basis of its plot, and its heroine is a newspaper woman, pretty, alert, and altogether fascinating.

Its hero is an author who becomes a United States Senator. The girl is, or at least looks to be, a while O Jee is admittedly so, but in the end love discounts the discrepancy.

The audience liked "O Jee" immensely, and at the end of the second act compelled Mr. Talbot to make a speech, which really was too bad, for Jim Morton is already forgotten.

From start to finish "O Jee" holds one's interest. To be sure, the first act drags a little, and it is a mistake to let the curtain fall in the middle of it to indicate that an hour has elapsed. Technically, this is necessary in order that O Jee, with a bullet wound in his arm can recover sufficiently to conduct an animated conversation with Ruth Stillman, who proves a ministering angel in his hour of need, and who aids him to escape from her father, the Sheriff.

This curtain fall, however, is the one jarring note in the play for it shatters the illusion of reality which the clever players have established instantly. Ruth Stillman becomes Frances Ring, and O Jee is Walter Edwards, and one remembers that after all, it's only a play, and not a bit of real life.

If suggestions are in order, why not give O Jee several stiff drinks and revive him that way, thus eliminating the necessity for the curtain's fall and the explanation therefore in the programme.

Yet this is a minor fault and has little or no effect on the play as a whole, for the story is fascinating, and well told, with plenty of refined humor and heart interest to make it delightfully human.

Briefly the story tells of an author, whose son unwittingly becomes partner to some green goods men. Detected while his father is with him,
they escape, the elder with a bullet in his arm.

In this condition "O. J. E." Emerson stumbles into the house of the Sheriff, and meets the daughter,
Ruth, who binds up his wound and lets him escape.

Five years later, when the second act opens, O Jee is about to be elected United States Senator, the Sheriff, Ben Stillman, is head of the secret service and the problem of the moment is to ascertain where the boy and the two fathers face, and the prospective Senator stands on the Panama Canal tolls question.

The girl is working for a newspaper, and unknown to herself is merely a tool for her own father, in the forfeiting out of information.

All the machinery of the administration, including a fascinating woman,
Mrs. Hatch, has failed to elicit the information, when Ruth appears on the scene, and there is mutual recognition between herself and the man she befriended five years before.

Meanwhile O Jee's son, Scott Emerson, confesses to an affair with a newspaper woman. There is a dramatic climax in which the girl, the
boy and the two fathers face, and the curtain falls on chaos, with O Jee's offer to marry the girl in case his son will not, ringing in one's ears.

The last act, in the secret service chief's office, discloses the fact that the adult had jumped too quickly to the conclusion that the girl in the case was Stillman's daughter, when,
in fact, it was someone else, and the final curtain falls as Ruth rises for the door to send to her paper "the coop" announcing her engagement to United States Senator O Jee.

If one can reconcile one's self to seeing the blithe, self-reliant Ruth throw away her youth on O Jee, aged 50, then the plot must stand out as an entertaining, consistent story, well told, and capitally presented.

As Ruth Stillman, Frances Ring is adorable. When, revolver in hand, she holds the supposed counterfeiter
at bay or as the indignant, self-reliant daughter of a father whose readiness to distrust her is all too apparent, she is mistress of the situation.

TIRELESS TIGERS BREAK EVEN ON 'TOUGH SERIES'

Battle Wolves to Draw in Morning at Venice; Whip Them 5 to 3 in Second Game—Great Uphill Fight by Tigers After Losing Three Straight—Wolverton Is Fired in Afternoon.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
THOSE brave, tireless Tiger men kept on coming from behind yesterday and did not return to their lairs until they had wrestled the Wolves to an even break for the series.

The sunrise skirmish was a drawn battle, trimmed down to eight innings by the inexorable Waterbury, with the honors halved 4 to 4. In the afternoon round, a wrangle that kept the fans writing in an agony of joy for two hours, the Tigers tamed the Wolves, 5 to 3.

This left the count for the series three to three, with a no-decision bout for future settlement.

Harry Stewart unfurled another of his fancy Sunday morning exhibitions, but found Johnny Williams a worthy opponent. In fact, the Kamie had shade, if you want to split hairs. He allowed but three scattered hits to four off Stewart.

GORE AND GOUCH.
Judge Munsell and Elmer Keating hooked up in the second game—a battle that was filled with blood and bitterness. One of Munsell's shots put Jack Bliss in the hands of the club surgeon with a split finger in the third inning, and one inning later Dunlap

"Movies," Latest Teacher

Instructors can make much use of the films, and they will use them in their physics work. In connection with geography they will also be of value as showing different products and manufactures throughout the world. In connection with the biological laboratory they will be invaluable. But it is perhaps in the English department that they will be of most use as depicting the scenes and stories made famous in literature—as the Lake country of Sir Walter Scott, and other places made famous by the great poets and novelists in all parts of the world. "Later we hope to have the talking pictures," said Mr. Kelso, of the "Movies," and they will be of great use in the study of the motion picture companies to obtain the best films at a reduced rate.
